COURSE SCHEDULE

Tuesday – Friday, June 16–19, 9am–4:30pm

COURSE DESCRIPTION

NTS562M—Exegeting Pauline Soteriological Literature: Romans. How to be justified and how to experience spiritual growth are the foundational concerns of Christianity. Exegeting the Greek text of Romans, you will trace the argument of the author and do an intensive study of the great themes of salvation and sanctification, and other matters such as the significance of the Law and the covenants for the believer. You will also study the authorship, date, structure, and place of origin of the epistle. 2 hours. Prerequisite: NTS510 or permission of the instructor.

This year's emphasis will be upon "the Rome of the book of Romans." That is, it will highlight Paul's effort to refocus the teaching of Jesus in such a way that it successfully penetrated the world of the Roman empire. This course will investigate the fashion in which Paul's key soteriological themes in Romans, along with Paul's Christology and "ecclesiology of the alternate community," addressed the culture of the empire.

COURSE CONTRIBUTION TO STATED DEGREE OUTCOMES

COURSE GOALS/OBJECTIVES

Interpretation of the Scriptures must first be appropriate to the character, composition, and context of the particular book. This foundational effort to "rightly handle the word of truth" (2 Timothy 2:15) calls for the application of solid interpretation skills to identify what is central and particular to the New Testament letters, and for an appreciation of "the major themes and developments” within biblical history to understand the 'big picture' of God's redemptive program. Toward that end this course is part of a curriculum that surveys the content of the entire canon, intends to lead students to a basic cognitive grasp of the literature, to a more positive emotional response to the text and its Author, and to an ever more faithful application of its teachings.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Reading

A general familiarity with the Dunn book prior to class is expected.

Assignments

Reading Report: A 5 page reflection paper on the Dunn text is required in this course, highlighting the most valuable contributions of the book to your understanding of Paul. This paper is due on the email server of Janet Gluck in the Western Seminary Sacramento office by midnight at the end of the first class session, Tuesday June 16: JGluck@WesternSeminary.edu. DO NOT turn in to the class sessions.

Exegetical Paper: One 5-7 page paper leading to familiarity with Paul's soteriology in Romans is required for this course. The student may choose ONE of the following topics on which to write:

- The main points within, and the progressive development of, Paul’s presentation on spiritual growth in Romans 5-8. Include a discussion of this section’s relationship to the prior chapters.
- The relationships Paul develops between nomos (Law), sarx (flesh), and pneuma “Spirit” in the book of Romans.

This paper is due on the email server of Janet Gluck in the Western Seminary Sacramento office by midnight at the end of the first class session, Tuesday June 16: JGluck@WesternSeminary.edu. DO NOT turn in to the class sessions.

Biblical Theology Paper: One major research paper is required for this course on a topic germane to the course and approved by the instructor. The paper should consult and make use of several scholarly sources, balancing these with informed readings of the apposite Biblical text(s). This paper should be ten to fifteen pages in length. This paper is due on the professor’s email server by 5pm on the last day of the term, Saturday, Aug 15.

For all assignments, original interaction with the Biblical text is expected and arguments should be supported by the text. It is important to keep in mind that the instructor not only values interaction with secondary sources, but what the student thinks based upon and supported by the text. The student’s task is to investigate, describe, and evaluate what the Scripture teaches about the chosen subject.

STANDARDS FOR WRITTEN WORK (MLA)

Papers must be written to a near-thesis standard. That is, minimum format standards must be met, as defined below. English grammar, idiom, and spelling must be up to graduate level. Always include a strong introduction paragraph (declare what you intend to show the reader) and conclusion paragraph. Qualities valued include clarity, succinctness, and precision.

This course employs the MLA (Modern Language Association) style guide. The basic elements are:

- Double-spacing, except for block quotes
- Single space block quotes
- Page numbers appear at the upper right on every text page
- Use footnotes rather than paragraph citations
- Footnotes follow a standard format.

Helpful web sites on MLA style include:

A good website with footnote/bibliography entries is

<http://www.wisc.edu/writing/Handbook/DocChicabgo.html>

For assignments that require the use of non-course texts and include a bibliography, of the resources mentioned in the bibliography for your project/paper, two must be from a physical library. Note the physical location of each book as an addendum to each bibliographical entry.

All work must reflect master's level use of the English language. Plagiarism will result in failure of assignment.

CLASS POLICIES

Attendance and Late Assignments: Students are expected to attend all class meetings. Students who miss class are responsible for missed work. Unexcused absences and tardiness will impact a student's grade. Students who anticipate an absence should discuss it in advance with the instructor.

Note: Any absence where the instructor is not notified ahead of time (in person, via phone, or e-mail) will be considered an unexcused absence. If the absence is excused, assignments due may be turned in at the next class session without affecting the grade for that assignment. Unexcused absences will incur a drop of one letter grade for the assignment if submitted at the following class session.

Assignments submitted after the due date and time constitutes a drop of one letter grade in the student's letter grade for that assignment (unless prior arrangements have been made and approved by the instructor). Two class absences will result in a drop of the student's overall grade of one letter.

Incompletes: Faculty members determine their own procedures and due dates for the completion of course assignments. The final deadline for submitting all course work is the last day of the semester as noted in the Academic Calendar and in the Sacramento class schedule. In the case of serious illness, family emergency, or similar extenuating circumstances, the instructor may, if it is initiated by the student, grant an extension. A 1-3 week extension is typical in all except the most extreme cases, and in all cases the standard decrease of a full letter grade for late work applies. Extensions desired by student beyond 3 weeks, with prof support, must be approved by the Sacramento Academic Coordinator with 5 weeks after the end of the course being the longest possible extension for work being due to the prof (this allows a 6th week for the grading of work and a grade change request to be filed). A temporary notation of “I” (incomplete) is assigned until a final grade can be determined. Under no circumstances may this six-week period be extended except by petition and approval of the Administrative Committee in Portland.

The Availability of Disability Services at Western Seminary: Western Seminary is committed to responding to the needs of students with disabilities as outlined in both the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990. Western students are assisted individually as their needs dictate. It is the responsibility of students with disabilities to identify themselves and the nature of the disability. Any student who has a disability should contact the seminary’s Disability (Section 504) Coordinator, Ken Epp, at 503-517-1815/1-877-517-1800, ext. 1815. His office is at the Portland campus. Students at the northern California campuses may contact Carrie Priest (Student Services Coordinator – San José) or PJ Oswald (Director of Student Development – Sacramento), or they may contact Dr. Epp directly. Appropriate forms will be provided and must be submitted to the Disability Coordinator’s office.
