

Celebrate a Great Coaching Experience!

Coaching can help you make better decisions, overcome stubborn obstacles, gain clarity, improve focus, generate creative new ideas, develop positive new habits, and become a better leader.

"As a Student Ministries Pastor, I could not have been more surprised to see how personably, authentically, and intentionally Greg handled our sessions. His dedication to understand my vision and passion, and then to partner with me to leverage my strengths to further my goals makes our time invaluable to me. Our sessions have brought clarity and focus. I highly recommend Greg and his coaching style, which values my aspirations." – Josh , Student Ministries Pastor

"If you are considering meeting with a coach, I would highly recommend Greg Cottrill. The whole concept of coaching was a new idea for me and I was not sure what meeting with a coach would provide. I knew that I needed help with clearly defining my goals and exploring areas where I was experiencing challenges in moving towards those goals. Not only is Greg personable, he is able to sift through the things you are sharing and bring clarity. His methods include asking questions that make you think about things from a new perspective. He provides tools that allow you to prioritize your life plan now and where you want to go. I found my coaching appointments to be a great encouragement to take proactive steps to bring about the changes I needed to move forward." Joyce H.

"I highly recommend Greg and the life coaching process. I was very skeptical at first and didn't really expect to gain much out of the coaching process with Greg. Much to my surprise, Greg helped me identify key weaknesses that were hindering my ministry and personal life. Greg walked me through a process that helped turn my weaknesses into strengths. During my time with Greg my health, marriage, and ministry have become much healthier. I've lost 20 pounds, I'm utilizing my time more effectively, and I've been able to streamline my approach in ministry. Thank you Greg!" – Israel Velasco, Associate Pastor, UYWI 90° Certification Program Graduate
