

Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor Of Systematic Theology – Portland Campus

Hours: Full Time, Exempt

Accountability: Vice President of Academic Affairs and Dean of Faculty

Position Summary: The primary duties will be to teach core master's level courses in Systematic Theology, electives, and Th.M. seminars and supervise theses in the Th.M. program. The faculty member will participate actively in the department (Center for Biblical and Theological Studies [CBTS]), the full faculty, and the wider Seminary community. The individual's involvement will include mentoring students, engaging in research and scholarship, and serving on faculty committees.

Education/ Training: Completed Ph.D. in Systematic Theology (ABD candidates will be considered.)

Application deadline: Applications will be received until February 1, 2024.

Start Date: The start date is August 1, 2024, or earlier if the candidate is available.

Salary: Commensurate with qualifications and experience

Application: To be considered for this position, please send a letter of interest, current curriculum vitae, completed faculty application, transcripts, and a list of four references we may contact to Kendra Huntington (khuntington@WesternSeminary.edu). Contact two references and have them send their recommendation directly to Western Seminary.

Qualifications:

- Evangelical Christian commitment and lifestyle consistent with the World Evangelical Alliance Statement of Faith and the Seminary's governing virtues
- Unqualified agreement with Western Seminary's Faculty Teaching Position,
- Demonstrated experience and skill in teaching both in the classroom and online
- Demonstrated evidence of scholarly contributions, student mentorship, and irenic collegial interaction
- Mature and growing Christian faith and involvement in and commitment to the local church.

Further Information:

- Dr. Jan Verbruggen, Chair, Center for Biblical and Theological Studies (jverbruggen@westernseminary.edu)