

SLIPPERY SLOPE

Going to tell it on the mountain? Better bring your boots.

God's love compels you to take His gospel into the world. But avalanches of moral relativism, globalization, and religious ambivalence make for an Everest-sized challenge. You'll need the right tools to hang tight when scaling those cliffs: a framework for accurate interpretation of Scripture? Check. Missiology that speaks and shows love across borders? Check. A kindred community to climb with you? Check. Western Seminary's practitioner faculty ensures that you're equipped for ministry whether you're starting from base camp or already climbing.

No shortcuts. No regrets. Just trustworthy and accessible training for gospel-centered transformation.
