CHANGE IN EBSCO HOST

You may or may not have noticed, but the online databases offered through EBSCOhost have slimmed down. The current databases available to you are the ATLA Religion Database and PsycARTICLES. If you are a new student you should have received your user ID and password to access EBSCOhost in your student handbook. If you have misplaced this information, you can contact the librarian, Sharon Ho, and she will put it in your student box. If you have any questions or concerns regarding these changes, please feel free to contact Sharon.
